Girl Delivery Tips and Best Practices – Fall Product Program

Before Girl Scouts share their order card or online storefront link with their customers, they should know their products and practice their sales pitch, including their goals! When people learn that they are working on a highest award or that their troop is saving up for a camp out, trip, or special event or planning to do a community service/take action project, they'll want to contribute. Family, friends, and neighbors want to support Girl Scouts and their goals!

In-person order taking

- Order cards have a variety of nuts and candies to choose from. Girl Scouts can easily share it with friends, family, and neighbors and take their orders. Customers can also purchase nuts and candies through the Girl Scout's online storefront, as well as other items such as Tervis Tumblers, BarkBox options, and magazines.
- Business cards and door hangers are helpful tools when going door-to-door asking neighbors to support their goals. Girl Scouts can print them from their M2 dashboard! Both include a QR code to her online storefront.
- If neighbors aren't home, leave a business card or door hanger at the door instead, if allowed. Be respectful of no soliciting signs.

Delivery

- After Girl Scouts receive the products for their orders, they should communicate with customers and coordinate time and location of nut/candy delivery.
- If they are unable to deliver the products to their customers at the arranged time, be sure to communicate the change and schedule a new time/date.
- Call or send customers a text message when the nut/candy products are "out for delivery."
- Customer appreciation is key to being a successful entrepreneur! Girls can include a personalized thank you note with the nut/candy delivery.
- Adults must accompany Daisies, Brownies, and Juniors on all nut/candy deliveries.
- It's recommended that Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors make deliveries with a friend or an adult.

Keep in mind that many customers order nuts and candy to give as holiday gifts. That's one reason why timely deliveries are important! Also candy, especially chocolate, is sensitive to heat and cold. Store in cool, dry place
